Board of Education Discusses Bond Referendum, Yellow Bay

The State Board of Education, meeting in Helena, yesterday heard a 24 million dollar building needs request by university system presidents, and named Attorney General Arnold Olsen as its defense counsel in the controversial Yellow Bay case.

The board discussed possibilities of a multi-million dollar bond referendum to be placed on the 1960 ballot.

The discussion followed a committee report from the University Presidents' Council which called for 24 million dollars for additional buildings and improvements at the university system's six plants.

At an October meeting in Billings, the board requested the university system presidents to prepare a buildings needs study.

Board members agreed that the bond issue would be the only alternative if the estimated need for classroom, laboratory and other building requirements listed by the council was to be met.

Following discussion, the board returned the bond issue proposal to its budget committee and asked the presidents to furnish more facts and information, particularly on current use of classroom and laboratory space. The information is to be furnished for the board's January meeting.

A detailed list, indicating the order in which buildings are needed, will be presented at the January 14 meeting of the board.

The Yellow Bay case was dropped into the lap of the attorney general after the board voted to have the attorney general handle its defense against a suit filed by Mrs. Juanita Elliott of Kalispell which charges Montana State University plans to close Yellow Bay State Park.

The park was established in 1941 on 10 acres of University Biological Station land on the east shore of Flathead Lake.

Mrs. Elliott charged University officials with wanting to close the park in order to make the biological station into "an exclusive country club" for professors and students.

President Carl McFarland and Dr. Gordon Castle, director of the Biological Station, were originally charged in the suit. The suit against them was dismissed last month. The state board was named defendant in an amendment to the suit.

L. Nelson Enters Court Plea Today

Larry Nelson, Craig Hall, was arrested Saturday on the charge of leaving the scene of an accident without stopping to give aid, police reported.

Arraigned in Municipal Court Monday morning, Nelson was informed of the charges against him and given 24 hours in which to make a plea.

A car he was allegedly driving just after midnight Friday struck down a woman pedestrian at the intersection of Higgins avenue and Front street and failed to stop.

Mrs. Beatrice Hudson, Park Hotel, was taken to St. Patrick's hospital after the mishap, where doctors said she received severe bruises of the left hip and leg. She was released Saturday.

Nelson, out on $50 bond, was arrested after police found the car allegedly involved in the mishap in the University parking lot at Keith and Maurice avenues.

The car was identified by its license plate, the number of which was furnished by five witnesses of the mishap.

Christmas SOS, Convo This Week

The traditional Christmas Singing on the Steps and convocation will be this week.

The SOS will feature the Jubileers, Thursday evening at 7:30 on the Main Hall steps.

"If the weather is like it was Monday, there's no excuse for students not attending the last SOS of the quarter," Dick Barney, Traditions Board chairman, said.

He hinted that something different is planned for Santa Claus and the presents to campus students.

The convocation will be Friday morning at 9:30. Morning classes will be shortened to allow for the hour of caroling and skits.

Highway Deaths Hit 251 Mark; New Record Set

HELENA (UP)—Montana's all-time highway death toll was shattered yesterday afternoon when a 44-year old Roundup man was killed in a two car collision 20 miles west of Roundup.

Richard J. Herren, an oil worker, was highway fatality 251. He was killed when the car in which he was riding was struck by a half-ton truck, attempting to cross dust-clouded Highway 6.

Earlier in the day 47-year old Ovila David Goulet of East Glacier was killed when the pick-up in which he was riding left U.S. 2 about five miles west of Browning.

The belated report of the death of 30-year old Richard Waterhouse of Fort Benton raised the fatality toll to 249 earlier in the day. Waterhouse died Monday of injuries received in a one-car accident east of Fort Benton.

The previous all time high of 250 was set in 1943.

MSC's Entrance Into Skyline Seems Possible, Not Probable

By GENELL JACKSON

Will Montana State College apply for membership to the Skyline Conference? This is the question being asked after Dr. R. R. Renne's sudden announcement that his school had dropped out of the Rocky Mountain Conference Friday.

Renne, president of Montana State College, has made no announcement as to future plans, but speculation is high. For the time being, the Bobcats will be independent. But how long they can afford the Notre Dame-type schedule is questionable. Bozeman cannot guarantee top teams enough money to play at Bozeman and likewise, cannot afford to play teams throughout the country as does Notre Dame.

May Apply for NCC

They could apply for admittance to the North Central Conference which includes major schools in Iowa and the Dakotas. But the College would be at the far western end of the area and this conference has failed to develop athletic rivalries which will pay off at the box office.

Establishment of a new conference in the Rocky Mountain region does not appear feasible. So the Skyline is one of the few remaining alternatives.

One member of the Montana State University Athletic Dept. believes the Skyline would be a bit reluctant to welcome the Bobcats into its conference.

"Denver and Utah don't want to play football here because we can't draw a big enough crowd," he said. "I don't see how Bozeman can guarantee them more than we."

The withdrawal was not hasty action, Renne emphasized.

Discussion Group Hears Howarth Talk on T.S. Eliot

Herbert Howarth, visiting lecturer in English, spoke to members of the Friday Night Club, a student discussion group, on "T. S. Eliot: American or European Man of Letters?"

He said Eliot, whose many poems include "The Waste Land" and "The Hollow Men," was born an American, but became a British citizen. It is therefore difficult to classify him specifically as either a British or an American contributor to classic poetry. Eliot studied philosophy and received his master's degree from Harvard. He went to Paris to study, Howarth said, and like many talented writers of his time, turned away from the new world to the old in search of what he considered higher intellectual talent.

Many of Eliot's poems, Howarth said, deal with contrasts in living conditions during his boyhood in St. Louis. At the beginning of the 20th century, Eliot saw the poverty and slums of the quickly expanding cities contrasted with successful businesses and large mansions. He wrote symbolically about these contrasts.

Commission Tentatively Approves Annexation Of U Property to City

The Missoula City Commission last night tentatively approved a proposal to annex 300 acres of University property into the city of Missoula.

The commission passed a resolution of intention to annex the area, and set Jan. 7 as a hearing date.

The property to be annexed includes the strip houses, the University golf course, the family housing under construction at Maurice and Woodworth avenues, and 80 acres on Mount Sentinel.

The Mount Sentinel acreage includes the area behind Dorn-laser Field and the University tables.

University officials filed the petition with the commission Oct. 9. The petition had been under study by the city attorney since that time.

Masquer Tryouts Slated Tomorrow, Thursday—Brown

Tryouts for Montana Masquers in the round production of "The Importance of Being Earnest," are scheduled tomorrow and Thursday in Simpkins Theater.

Time of tryouts will be 3:30 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. both days. Bo Brown, visiting lecturer in drama, said all University students are invited to tryout.

The Masquers turn to an arena-style production for the famous Oscar Wilde comedy, to be presented Jan. 29-Feb. 2 in the Yellowstone Room of the Lodge. With the audience seated on all four sides of the central acting area, actors are offered a new dimension in acting, Brown said.

"Masquers decided to produce 'The Importance of Being Earnest' in-the-round to add greater emphasis to the lines in the play. I believe that the audience should be given the opportunity to participate in as many different types of staging as local facilities allow," he said.

Dig Deeper, Dunkers

The State Board of Education Monday authorized action that had been taken by Montana State University nearly a week ago—raising room and board rates 10 per cent. The board gave the presidents of the university system permission to raise or lower residence halls fees 10 per cent in any given year.

Many have been asking just why fees must be raised and officials give the answers heard year after year.

"Food has gone up . . . It's still cheaper here . . . Labor costs more—We gave the students a nickel raise . . ."

What appears to be the real answer was given by one of the men most closely connected with the problem when he said "No hike would have been necessary had enrollment reached the volume we had planned for."

But enrollment was curtailed, the dormitories were not filled, and operation costs could not be met without a raise footed by the students. Now all freshmen, including men over 21, must live in the dormitories. Protests have been ignored, and the matter was laid before Gov. J. Hugo Aronson in a letter written by several MSU veterans requesting permission to live off campus.

A breakdown of operating expenses show that 47 to 50 per cent of residence halls money goes toward food. Over a fourth of the budget is spent in wages, 6.2 per cent for supplies, insurance, heat, rental, laundry, garbage collection, etc. Another 2 per cent is spent for repairs and replacements, 1.5 per cent for capital goods and the remainder to bond service, interest and accounting.

Last year the food service, including the grill, took in $710,000 with a net profit of $3,786.34. A different plan is being used this year, whereby residence halls and food service have separate accounts and it is estimated $500,000 will be taken in from food operations and $200,000 will be collected from the residence halls.

But we are wondering if this raise is really needed when several day-old doughnuts are sold for a dime and profits on fruit juice "are rather high!"

Dear Editor:

The vulnerability of student government officials and the organizations with which they are associated is such that venom spat from the corner of the irascible, uncomprehending non-participants has been allowed to flow violently and unchecked. Those who habitually complain, but find themselves incapable of participating to act on their complaints, have played havoc. Such is the case of D. VanderPoel's latest attack, a one man censure of most things in general and Judicial Council in particular.

I shan't bother to employ the reductio ad absurdum method on Mr. VanderPoel's exhortation point by point. There is no need. Most letters of that type are so absurd that, save for their constant repetition, they deserve no answer at all.

Perhaps Mr. VanderPoel hasn't been following Judicial Council proceedings very carefully since he lost so badly in the primary election for the position of J-Council chairman. If he has he doesn't demonstrate it by his letter, for he maintains that the Council's entire effort has been aimed at closing the Blackfoot Tavern.

Naturally this is untrue. The Council meets weekly, and every meeting has included at least one case on the agenda. In his letter Mr. VanderPoel implies that the justification of J-Council's existence is nil, that Central Board is composed of mental pygmies and that the average MSU student is not quite up to par.

This seems to me a negative approach to an alleged problem. It also appears to be an attempt of a pseudo-intellectual to use quasi-intellectual methods. And it infuriates me to think that one would criticize for the sake of criticism, without first investigating his subject.

The old, oft-exercised attempt to associate the big, bad student officers with the mythical independent-busting Greek menace was used again (and I hope for the last time) by Mr. VanderPoel. The assumption was made that the Council members were appointed to represent fraternities, and that the latest change in a rule, allowing 21-year old students to drink before, during and after functions favors the fraternities. This is silly when we consider the facts. Members are chosen from the junior and senior classes on the basis of their merit, without regard for affiliation. If the critic would care to ask non-fraternity members, they would verify it. As for the new ruling favoring the Greeks, I ask, "How?"

Now Mr. VanderPoel's last line was, "Just remember Hungary and Michigan." I understand that immigration into Hungary is quite difficult at present, but Michigan has no barriers. Of course, some of us like MSU.

Sincerely,
Lawrence Pettit

Dear Editor:

On Sunday night, Dec. 2, in the University theater there was a musical production involving over 50 MSU students. "Amahl and the Night Visitors" was deemed a success by almost everyone who attended. This success was due to the combined efforts of the ballet, drama and music departments.

This will come as a surprise to most University students since the production received very little attention from ASMSU or the Kaimin.

It is true that the program was under the supervision of the Civic Symphony, so none of the departments could do anything in the way of advertising. It is also true, however, that ASMSU had 400 seats in the auditorium to use as they liked. They did next to nothing about them. There was no campus advertising and worse than that, the Kaimin carried only a very small article with one or two sentences devoted to the part

• Kaimin Class Ads Pay •

First Choice

Eddy's Bread

MSU students played in the performance.

Now that one of the most enjoyable programs of the year is over, there was not even a small article covering the performance.

Whether the Kaimin agrees or not, it should be realized that in the eyes of many, there are other activities going on at the University that are just as important and interesting as athletics, ROTC and whether or not the coeds should be allowed a goodnight kiss at Marquette University.

Sincerely,
Larry Nitz

Washington, Idaho, Hand Grizzlies Pair of Defeats

By RON MUNGER

The Montana Grizzlies lost their second and third basketball games of the current campaign when they were defeated by Washington State and Idaho last weekend.

Washington State, using a revamped lineup, won their first game of the season over the victory hungry Grizzlies by a score of 81-58. Captain Larry Beck of the Cougars proved too much for the "Tips. Beck hit on his first four shots of the game and ended with a total of 30 points.

Lead 'Tips At Half

The Cougars jumped to a 46-32 halftime lead on the shooting of Beck and sophomores Dave Beach and Jim Ross. Center Ray Howard kept Montana in the contest during the first half, contributing 8 points and getting a good share of the Grizzly rebounds. Zip Rhoades, Montana's flashy floorman, scored 10.

Coach Jack Friel changed his offense at the beginning of the second half. Beck moved to the single pivot post giving the Cougar guards more room to drive up the center.

The Cougars hit a very respectable 43 per cent from the floor and made 15 of 26 free throws. The closely guarded Grizzlies managed to hit 28 per cent. They sank 20 of 27 free throws.

Idaho

Diminutive guard Gary Simmons led the Idaho Vandals to their second victory over the Montana Grizzlies in Saturday night's game by the score of 57-52.

Simmons put on a 22 point scoring show before 3,000 Idaho fans. In last week's Vandal victory over the Grizzlies, Simmons hit an identical total.

The first half saw Idaho, using their first and second teams equally, hold the upper hand in a very slow contest. The intermission found Idaho out in front 30-25, after the Grizzlies had cut down a big margin with nine points in the fading moments. Idaho hit 28 per cent in the first half and the Silvertips hit 27 per cent.

The Vandals jumped to an eight point lead to start the second half. Montana forward Hal Erickson got hot and pulled the Grizzlies to within two points.

Erickson, Darrol Dunham, and Ray Howard kept pounding away for the Grizzlies. With seven minutes left in the game Erickson and Howard scored 10 points between them and the 'Tips got their first lead of the game, 48-47.

Simmons came through with eight straight points that put the Vandals six points ahead with less than three minutes to play. The Idaho team then played ball control and it paid off.

Montana's shooting improved in the second half. They hit 10 field goals in 29 attempts for 35 per cent. For the game they hit 17 of 55 for 30 per cent. The victorious Vandals made 19 of 65 for 29 per cent.

Coach Forrest Cox had his Grizzlies using a zone defense during the first half. The second half, the Grizzlies shifted back to a man-to-man defense.

Erickson played a very good game for the 'Tips and was their high scorer with 16 points. Darrol

Work Cut Out for Physical Education As Military Bowlers Hold League Lead

The Physical Education department bowlers will be going all-out next Tuesday night as they attempt to whittle Military's 31½-27½ lead.

Tonight's regularly scheduled games have been postponed until later. Games will continue as usual next week, Ed Chinske said yesterday. A faculty dinner forced the postponement.

Since the opening of the season, PE had never been seriously threatened until Nov. 27 when Military beat them 2½-½ to get a three point lead. Last week Journalism defeated PE 2-1 and Military downed Education by a similar score, to extend the Military margin to four points.

In other games last week, Natural Science defeated Chemistry-Pharmacy, 2-1, and Business Administration trimmed Administration, also 2-1.

Military had the high team series of 2362 last week and Physical Education had 2284 for second place. Military also had the high team game of 851. Journalism was second with 831.

Journalism's Ed Dugan rolled a high individual series of 527 and PE's Ed Chinske and Vince Wilson had 521 for a second place tie. Wilson had the high individual game of 211 and James Gebhart, Education, was second with 206.

Dunham added 13 points and Howard, who was held scoreless throughout the first half, scored eight points.

Fast-Moving Girls Extinguish Blaze At Tri-Delt House

A fire at the Delta Delta Delta sorority house, 501 University Ave., brought firemen on the run, Friday evening, but they arrived to find the flames already quenched by quick-thinking girls operating a fire extinguisher.

The blaze started, according to one of the girls, when a thermostat-controlled heater was left on a bed in the house. Marian Hagler, just moving in, noticed the heater was not on and threw some clothes across it.

Later, the thermostat of the heater, which was still plugged in, went into operation and the girls were soon confronted with smoke and flames.

The fire department was called and the fire extinguisher brought into operation.

Most of Miss Hagler's clothes were destroyed by the fire, and the walls and bedding were damaged. An official estimate of $500 worth of damage was reportedly made by an insurance company representative.

Recounting the experience Miss Hagler said the heater, a portable, was on the bed because the girls were in the habit of moving it whenever and wherever it was needed.

MacArthur Lists Dining Schedule

Miss Eleanor MacArthur, assistant director of food service, stated yesterday that beginning Thursday, Dec. 20, all students will eat three daily meals in the Brantly Hall dining room.

This will continue, with the exception of Christmas Day, until the evening meal on Sunday, Jan. 6. The reason for this change is the closing of the Lodge.

Meal tickets will be honored through the evening meal on Dec. 20. A "pay as you go" system will then be used until the beginning of winter quarter. The prices Monday through Saturday will be 40 cents for breakfast, 55 cents for lunch, and $1.10 for dinner. Sunday breakfast, noon dinner, and evening supper will cost 55 cents, $1.50, and 30 cents respectively. Serving time will be closed at a later date.

Arrangements for rooms for the vacation have been made by Mrs. J. R. Bush, supervisor, dormitory housing. Men will be housed in one wing of Jumbo Hall at a cost of $8 for the entire time. No arrangements have been made for women, since there have been no requests for rooms in previous years. However, arrangements can be made, and all those who plan on staying should call the Residence Hall office and make reservations soon.

The 1957 Intercollegiate Billiards Tournament is offering students a chance to enter into billiard competition next quarter.

The Billiards Congress of America, in conjunction with the Games Committee of the Association of College Unions, is sponsoring an air mail tourney which will get underway in January.

Tournament play will consist of pocket billiards, straight rail billiards, three cushion billiards, and co-ed pocket billiards. Teams must be composed of three players. A 50 cents per player fee is required.

Students interested in entering the tourney should contact Tommie Lu Middleton, assistant to the director of student activities, at her office in the Lodge immediately. She will supply additional information needed to enter the tournament.

A PLEASANT PRESENT like cartons of Luckies can make a dolly jolly or a pappy happy. And they're just the things to cheer up a glum chum or a gloomy roomie. So the guy who gives loads of Luckies, of course, is a Proper Shopper. He appreciates Luckies' better taste—the taste of mild, good-tasting tobacco that's TOASTED to taste even better—and he knows others appreciate it, too. How 'bout you? Give loads of Luckies yourself!
